

How do you recognize and interpret the Pythagorean Theorem as a statement about areas of squares on the sides of a right triangle?

What is the relationship among the areas?

How does this relate to the Pythagorean Theorem?

